

Pheffer Amato Announces First Mobile Office Hours This Summer

Assemblywoman Stacey Pheffer Amato (D-Rockaway Beach) today announced her first Mobile Office hours, to be held throughout July and August, allowing constituents to meet her and her staff directly, get questions answered and get help dealing with quality-of-life issues. (Local hours were announced several weeks ago by direct mail to constituents.) The tour will include stops at local businesses, senior centers, and libraries in an effort to provide families with the opportunity to meet with Assemblywoman Pheffer Amato and discuss concerns.

“I’m so excited to do our first Mobile Office hours!” said Pheffer Amato. “These tours are a really great way to keep government more accessible and accountable to people, and to let people see us around their work schedule. From Ozone Park to Far Rockaway to Breezy Point, we’ve aimed to cover as broad a swath of the district as possible. I’ll be bringing my staff out to help constituents with anything they might need help or information on, from Build It Back to their water bill or how they feel about legislation in Albany. This is the fun part for me – meeting folks face to face and getting to help folks out where I can!”

Pheffer Amato and her staff will set up tables at different locations to provide help dealing with government agencies and addressing quality-of-life concerns. The Assemblywoman will also have literature on hand to provide information on topics ranging from city parking regulations and crime prevention tips to voter registration. Each location will serve as a full-fledged “office.” The tour will include the following stops:
