To Learn More: Go to www.reformny.org and add your name to the growing list of New Yorkers wanting a more accountable and responsive state government.

Last year was a banner year for dysfunction, corruption, and mismanagement in Albany politics.

Because of this, I have joined with many of my legislative colleagues in calling for a People's Convention to Reform New York.

A People's Convention would mean that taxpayers would have the opportunity to create a more accountable, transparent, and efficient state government.
