Assemblyman Steve Stern Delivers for Our Long Island Families

- ✓ It is always important to provide critical support for local law enforcement to ensure they have the necessary resources, particularly during these challenging times. I am proud to have secured substantial funding for the Suffolk County Police, Sheriff's Department and the District Attorney to fight crime, prosecute violent gangs and keep our streets safe.
- ✓ Gun Violence is the moral issue of our time and the time for action is now. No child should ever be huddled under a desk texting a terrified and helpless parent as gunshots fly in their classroom. I was proud to support several strong common-sense gun safety reforms to protect our families, schools, and houses of worship from deadly gun violence.
- ✓ I know well that our local schools are the pride of our community. That's why I led the effort to deliver record education funding for Long Island schools, including mental health and special education services, to help ensure that all of our children have every opportunity to succeed.
- ✓ Our Long Island environment is facing unprecedented threats. I am working hard to protect the air our children breathe and the water they drink, now and for generations to come. This session, I secured historic funding for sewer infrastructure in Huntington Station, to protect our sole-source aquifer and grow our local economy and also passed the $4 billion Environmental Bond Act to address climate change, protect our vulnerable coastal communities and create the good paying green jobs of the future.
- ✓ So many of us are now members of the "Sandwich Generation" caring for young children and aging parents who need our attention at the same time. As a parent and caregiver, I understand the stress and demands of balancing the challenges in raising our children and caring for our aging and vulnerable loved ones. I was proud to provide support and relief to our neighbors working hard for their families, including childcare and home health care assistance which is essential to keeping our seniors in the homes they love and the communities they helped build.
