Wyandanch to get $100G from state to help combat gun violence

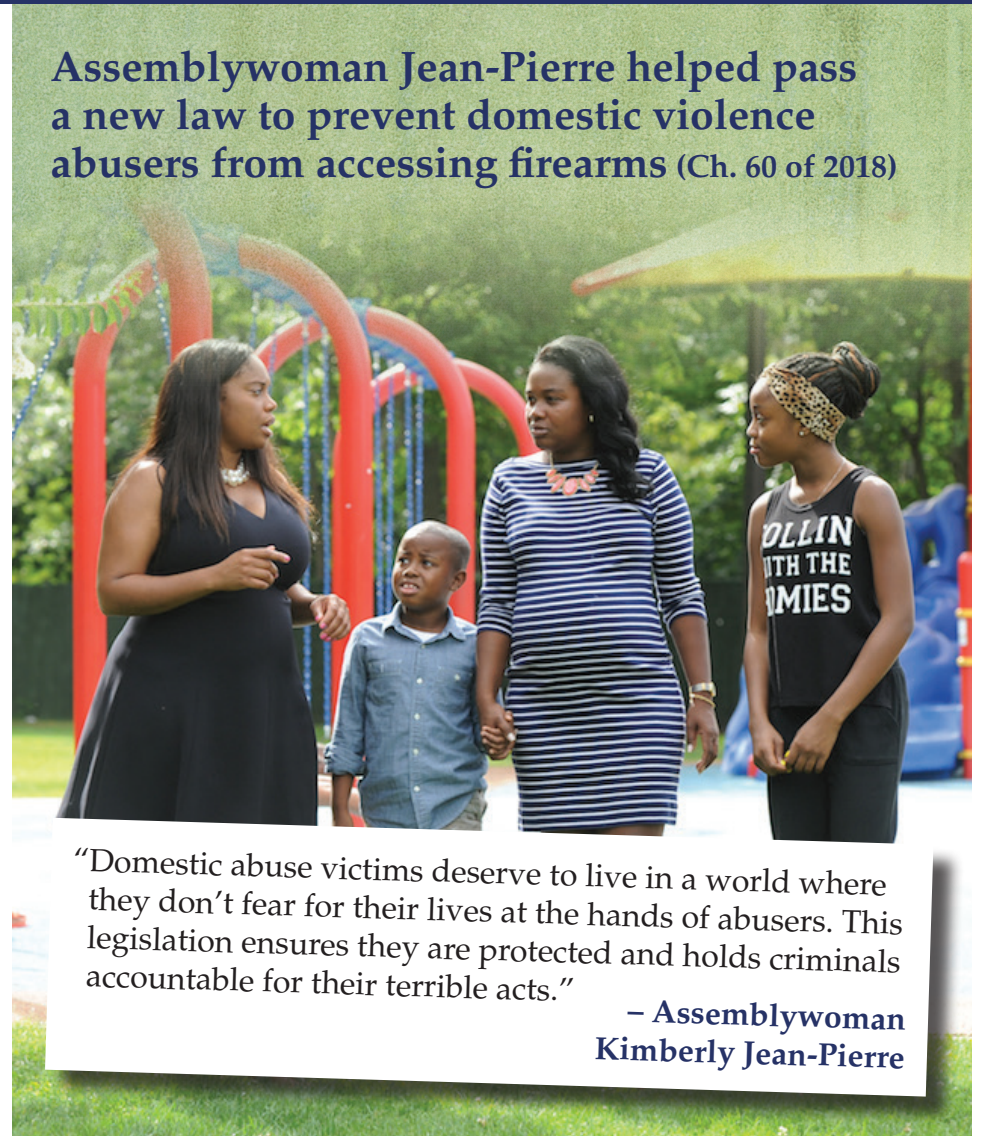

Assemblywoman Jean-Pierre is working to curb gun violence on Long Island

Assemblywoman Jean-Pierre secured $100,000 in the 2018-19 state budget to fund a SNUG initiative in Wyandanch. New York cities that have implemented SNUG saw significant decreases in the number of shootings.

SNUG:

- Provides skills to prevent and defuse incidents of violence
- Offers case management services
- Brings together residents, local businesses and community-based organizations to improve neighborhood safety

Assemblywoman Jean-Pierre helped pass a new law to prevent domestic violence abusers from accessing firearms (Ch. 60 of 2018)

“Domestic abuse victims deserve to live in a world where they don’t fear for their lives at the hands of abusers. This legislation ensures they are protected and holds criminals accountable for their terrible acts.”
