LONG ISLAND'S BLUE ECONOMY IS OUR FUTURE.

Long Island's waterways are among our greatest natural and economic assets. From Oyster Bay Harbor to Long Island Sound, protecting our marine environment means protecting jobs, tourism, fisheries, recreation, and our quality of life.

That is why I introduced legislation that would make New York a national leader in the Blue Economy.

NEW YORK OFFICE OF OCEAN ECONOMY ACT (A.11305)

Would establish the New York State Office of Ocean Economy within the Department of Environmental Conservation to:

- ✓ Coordinate maritime industries
- ✓ Support shellfish and aquaculture growth
- ✓ Promote ocean technology innovation
- ✓ Expand coastal resilience efforts
- ✓ Grow marine workforce development
- ✓ Strengthen Long Island's maritime economy

WHY IT MATTERS FOR OUR COMMUNITIES

OYSTER BAY

- Working waterfronts
- Shellfish restoration
- Coastal resiliency

LONG ISLAND NORTH SHORE

- Maritime jobs
- Tourism
- Environmental stewardship

CLEAN WATER.
STRONGER COASTS.
A STRONGER LONG ISLAND.
