Assemblywoman Rozic

helped pass the 2013-14 state budget to boost funding to New York City schools.

- $364 million increase to New York City schools over last year and a $240 million restoration for future years to prevent an ongoing penalty to our schools due to a missed deadline for a teacher and principal evaluation plan
- New grants for full-day and half-day pre-K seats
- Second consecutive increase in community college base aid
- 3 percent increase in funding for college opportunity programs that will help disadvantaged students
- $4.2 million statewide increase to public libraries
