

A report to the 25th Assembly District from

April 2018

Celebrating Queens!

I welcomed members of the Queens Chamber of Commerce and dozens of constituents to Albany for the 2nd annual Queens Day! It was a great opportunity to recognize and showcase all that Queens offers.

Helping Homeowners

With tax season upon us, I partnered with the Department of Finance (DOF) to bring tax benefits assistance to dozens of constituents right in my District Office. I will keep working on behalf of constituents who need help navigating government services and resources.

Promoting Women's Economic Empowerment

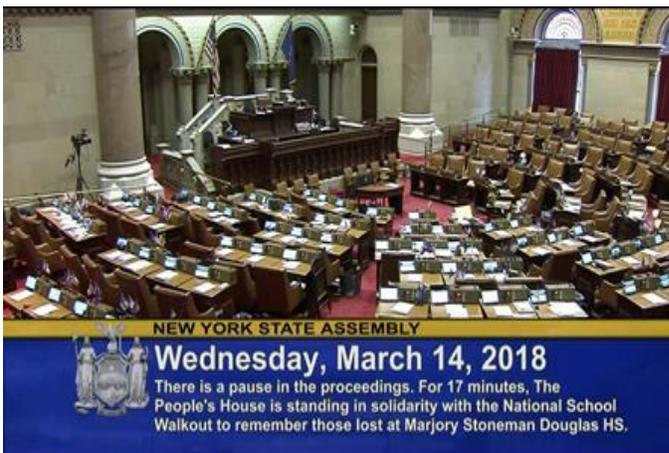

Together with YWCA divisions from across the state, I have been advocating and fighting to ensure that the state provides adequate funding for women's workforce development programming. I am dedicated to ensuring that New York is fair and equitable for women and men alike regardless of their economic background.

Honoring Educators

I am constantly reminded how talented our teachers, principals, administrators, and school leadership are in Queens and the District 26 Legislative Breakfast was a chance to publicly recognize the hard work of our educators. I am grateful for their dedication to our students, families, and academic excellence!

Protecting Our Students

As students across the country walked out of schools to advocate for gun safety, I stood in solidarity to honor the 17 students and educators who lost their lives during the shooting in Parkland. We must take meaningful action because they deserve remembrance—and change. In the Assembly we are confronting the issue head-on by improving background checks, keeping guns out of the hands of domestic abusers, and banning bump stocks.
