

July 21, 2023

Greetings —

This past Sunday saw heavy rains in the Northeast again causing flash flooding, power outages, and canceled airline flights. My bill (A7876) regarding flood disclosure for tenants, which was signed into law by the Governor in December, became effective this June 21st. The new law requires residential leases to include notice of flood risk and flood history as well as notice to tenants of flood insurance available to renters. This legislation will help provide renters the information they need to make good decisions regarding flood risk to protect their families and possessions. You can read about this legislation in Brick Underground and the Brooklyn Eagle.

For more details about my policy related work you can access my summer newsletter, which will also be coming in the mail next week, here.

Free Rain Barrel and Flood Barrier Distribution

Last weekend, in partnership with the NYC Department of Environmental Protection, I distributed rain barrels to dozens of constituents. I want to especially thank one of my summer interns, Dean Rousakis, who stood out in the rain with me and did a fantastic job assisting at the event.
