

New York Is Facing an Energy Affordability Crisis⁴

Assemblyman Alec Brook-Krasny Wants You To Know The Truth

Electricity prices for residential consumers have risen 70% since 2019.¹

The New York Independent System Operator (NYISO) has expressed concerns about grid reliability in the near future.²

NYSERDA* confirms expenses could exceed more than $2,340 per household for NYC residents.³

Families and businesses across Brooklyn are struggling with skyrocketing utility bills.⁵

Assemblyman Alec Brook-Krasny is supporting common-sense solutions to bring relief to ratepayers, restore energy reliability and protect taxpayers from costly mandates.

This is why I support the LOWER Plan, which would:

- ✓ Return unused NYSEDA funds to ratepayers (A.8876-A)
Sends surplus state energy funds back to residents as utility bill credits, helping lower monthly energy costs.
- ✓ Allow school districts to opt out of the zero-emission bus mandate (A.2005)
Gives local schools flexibility to avoid costly mandates, helping protect school budgets and local taxpayers.
- ✓ Protect access to natural gas and other heating options (A.6796)
Ensures homeowners and businesses can continue using affordable heating systems, preventing forced and expensive upgrades.
- ✓ Require notice when energy supply rates spike (A.1270)
Requires utilities to alert customers when supply rates jump significantly and connect them with bill assistance programs.
- ✓ Develop protections against costly capital improvements by having developers pay for infrastructure needs associated with new projects.
