Accessing COVID-19 Relief for Houses of Worship & Schools

This week, I joined U.S. Senate Majority Leader, Senator Chuck Schumer (D-NY) for a virtual meeting with faith-based leaders and advocates to discuss access of federal aid to houses of worship and schools. Through the efforts of Senator Schumer, New York State is projected to receive approximately $24 billion in federal aid to assist in the ongoing COVID-19 pandemic. I want to thank Majority Leader Schumer for co-hosting this informative event, Imam Tahir Kukiqi and Bishop Victor Brown for the opening and closing prayers and extend out a special appreciation for the faith-based leaders and advocates that participated and assist our communities daily. I remain committed to assisting and advocating for the residents of the 61st Assembly District.

Vigil to Honor Lives Lost to Anti-Asian Violence

This Tuesday, Staten Island Asian Community leaders came together and organized a vigil to honor all the lives lost to Anti-Asian violence as well as a call to action to end these hate crimes. I stand with them in condemning these heinous acts against our Asian brothers and sisters. And condemn the rise of hate crimes on Staten Island. We must come together and put a stop to this violence. As I always say hate against one group is hate towards all groups. Click here to read my full statement regarding the spike of hate crimes on Staten Island.

Updates From Albany

This week the Assembly and Senate passed the Marijuana Regulation and Taxation Act to legalize adult use of marijuana in New York State. The Legislation was signed into law as Chapter. 92.

The passage of the Marijuana Regulation and Taxation Act (MRTA), will legalize the adult use of marijuana in New York for individuals 21 years of age and older and establishes the Office of Cannabis Management (OCM) and the Cannabis Control Board to regulate the cannabis industry.

The legislation will use revenue from adult-use marijuana to invest in education and communities that have been disproportionately targeted by state and federal drug laws. New York will join 14 states, two territories and the District of Columbia in legalizing the adult use of marijuana. Highlights of the legislation:

Restorative Justice

- The MRTA will ease the burden of New Yorkers, particularly people of color who have been disproportionately impacted by drug laws.
- The legislation includes provisions that will allow individuals who are currently incarcerated or living with a criminal record for certain marijuana offenses to petition for dismissal or resentencing on the conviction.
- The legislation also builds on the 2019 decriminalization law by providing for the expungement of conviction records for individuals convicted of criminal possession of marijuana in the fourth degree, criminal possession of marijuana in the third degree, criminal sale of marijuana in the fifth degree, and criminal sale of marijuana in the fourth degree.
- Much of the revenue from the legalization of adult-use marijuana will go to the Community Grants Reinvestment Fund, which will be administered by the OCM advisory board and allocated to community based nonprofits to reinvest in communities disproportionately impacted by state and federal drug laws, as well as providing substance use disorder services, mental health services, services to address adverse childhood experiences, and afterschool and child care services.

- It will also support education through the State Lottery Fund and the Drug Treatment and Public Education Fund, which would require the Department of Health (DOH) and Office of Addiction Services and Supports (OASAS) to establish substance use disorder treatment programs for youth and adults.
- The legislation prohibits employers from taking adverse action against employees for the use of cannabis outside of work hours, off the employer's premises and without the use of the employer's equipment or other property.
- It also includes protections and procedures for adult-use cannabis as it relates to child protective investigations and reports, as well as custody and visitation rights in line with how alcohol is currently treated in law.
- Finally, it removes the ability to file a petition for a person in need of supervision (PINS) based solely on certain levels of marijuana possession.

Job Creation

- A report by Whitney Economics found that in 2020 alone – during a pandemic that caused millions of Americans to lose their jobs –the cannabis industry created 77,000 jobs.
- Across the country, there are about 321,000 jobs in the legal marijuana industry. Legalizing marijuana will create jobs across traditional industries, including agriculture, distribution, delivery, retail and more.
- The legislation establishes adult-use license categories: cultivator, processor, distributor, retail medical cannabis registered organizations (RO) vertical, RO cultivator, microbusiness, on-site consumption, cooperative, delivery and nursery. Microbusinesses are authorized to have complete vertical integration, which includes producing, processing, distributing and retail. An adult-use cultivator would be able to obtain one processor, one distributor and one nursery license.
- RO would be allowed to, after paying a one-time special fee, apply for a vertically integrated adult-use RO cultivator/processor/distributor/retail license, limited to no more than three co-located dispensaries.
- The Cannabis Control Board, with the assistance of the chief equity officer and advisory board, will also be required to establish a social equity plan. The goal of this plan will be to issue 50 percent of licenses to social equity applicants, especially those impacted by the war on drugs, those who are low-income, those who have a marijuana-related conviction, as well as minority and women owned businesses (MWBs), distressed farmers and service disabled veterans.

Penalties

- Unlawful possession of cannabis would be defined as a person possessing, outside of one's residence, more than three ounces of cannabis or 24 grams of concentrate, and punishable by a fine of up to $125.
- Possession by a person less than 21 years of age would be treated similarly to alcohol use– a $50 civil penalty payable to the OCM and such person would be provided with information on the dangers of the underage use of cannabis and information related to cannabis use disorder.
- The bill also establishes additional possession crimes, with penalties ranging from a class A misdemeanor to a class D felony.
- Cannabis will be included in the Driving While Intoxicated (DWI) law and driving while impaired by cannabis will be considered a misdemeanor.

- If the motorist under arrest refuses such a chemical test, that refusal – as under current law – can result in revocation of the driver’s license for one year.
- It establishes an unlawful sale crime when a person unlawfully sells cannabis or concentrated cannabis, punishable by a $250 fine.
- Establishes additional criminal sale crimes, with penalties ranging from a class A misdemeanor to a class C felony.

Opt-Outs

- Cities, towns and villages would be allowed to pass local legislation prohibiting certain retail establishments from opening within their borders, but the MRTA includes provisions for voters to overturn the opt-out.
- While they can opt-out of retail licenses, they cannot opt-out of other types of licenses. These opt-outs would also not prohibit the adult use of cannabis. Cities, towns and villages may also reasonably regulate the time, place and manner of operation of retail establishments.

Taxation

- Tax revenue from states that have legalized adult-use cannabis has surpassed expectations. Colorado usually collects more than $20 million a month, and California collects more than $50 million a month.
- In fiscal year 2019, Washington State collected a total of $395.5 million in legal marijuana income and licensing fees.
- It is projected that New York State will receive $350 million annually, once the law goes into full effect 18 months from now.

I want to first thank the sponsor of this legislation, Assembly Majority Leader, Crystal Peoples-Stokes for her dedicated eight years of work on this legislation. I realize that there are concerns about legalizing adult-use but I co-sponsored and voted for this legislation because of restorative justice, job creation, the enhancing of public, school, roadside safety and much needed revenue to disproportionate economic communities.

Critical Updates, New Policies, and Testing Locations to Protect You and Your Community

1. This past week it was announced a new expansion of COVID-19 vaccine eligibility in New York. Beginning Tuesday, March 30 at 8 a.m., all New Yorkers 30 years of age and older will be eligible to receive the vaccine. Beginning April 6, universal eligibility goes into effect and all New Yorkers 16 years of age and older will be eligible to receive the vaccine
2. Legislation to legalize adult-use cannabis has been passed. The bill would establish the Office of Cannabis Management to implement a comprehensive regulatory framework that would cover medical, adult-use and cannabinoid hemp. The bill would also expand New York State's existing medical marijuana and cannabinoid hemp programs. The legislation provides licensing for marijuana producers, distributors, retailers, and other actors in the cannabis market, and creates a social and economic equity program to assist individuals disproportionately impacted by cannabis enforcement that want to participate in the industry.
3. Today the HALT Solitary Confinement Act (S.2836/A2277-A) was signed into law, reforming the practice of segregated confinement in New York State correctional facilities. This legislation limits the amount of time an incarcerated person can spend in segregated confinement to 15 days, clearly defines and reduces the number of disciplinary infractions eligible for segregated confinement, and exempts certain vulnerable populations, including the young, elderly, pregnant women, people with disabilities, and individuals with a serious mental illness.
4. New York's Major League Baseball teams, the New York Mets and New York Yankees, can resume play with spectators in the stadiums, beginning April 1. Professional sports in large outdoor stadiums that hold 10,000 people or more will be allowed to reopen at 20% capacity.
5. Beginning April 2, arts and entertainment venues can reopen at 33% capacity, up to 100 people indoors and up to 200 people outdoors. If all attendees present proof of negative test prior to entry, capacity can increase up to 150 people indoors and up to 500 people outdoors. Social distancing and face coverings will be required by all attendees, as well as strict adherence to all applicable Department of Health guidance.
6. New York State is launching a new pilot program to begin administering the Johnson & Johnson's single-dose vaccine to eligible New Yorkers during the overnight hours at Yankee Stadium, Javits Center and New York State Fair Mass Vaccination Sites. Following a discussion with the White House COVID-19 Task Force, New York is taking measures to distribute the state's allocation of the Johnson & Johnson vaccine as quickly as possible, as states have been informed there will be a lag in the following week's allocation. As part of this effort, thousands of new appointments will be made available at each of the three sites in the coming days. Counties, pharmacies, and Federally Qualified Health Centers will also be receiving Johnson & Johnson allocations this week.

Legal Services NYC's Foreclosure Prevention Network attorneys represent homeowners in foreclosure as well as in state and federal court litigation challenging predatory lending, abusive mortgage servicing, scams targeting vulnerable homeowners, and fair housing and lending violations. We are the largest group of free civil legal services attorneys that help NYC homeowners by:

- Representing homeowners in court-mandated settlement conferences
- Providing legal advice and pro se assistance to homeowners through court-based clinics
- Helping clients negotiate home-saving solutions
- Advocating for fairer lending rules, and for better enforcement of laws protecting consumers from predatory practices

CLIENT SUCCESS STORY
Ms. M, a 68-year-old Black homeowner, fell one month behind on her mortgage when she had to pay for her sister's funeral expenses. For one year, her mortgage company continued to accept her payments, but then her servicing was transferred to a new company. The new mortgage company refused to accept Ms. M's payments unless she could catch up on the one missed payment. For three years, Ms. M tried to negotiate with her lender, but it refused to work with her even though she had sufficient income and was caring for her husband, who suffered from Alzheimer's disease. After being sued in foreclosure, Ms. M was able to connect with Brooklyn Legal Services, who helped her negotiate a modification with a lower interest rate and more affordable monthly payment, saving her $300 per month on her housing expenses and allowing her family to remain in their home.
