

IN THE COMMUNITY

PS 527's first annual Fall Fair turned 92nd Street into a neighborhood block party, with families moving between an obstacle course, arts and crafts tables, and enjoyed a visit from the FDNY. Alex stopped by to see the fair in action and hear how the school community is using events like this to bring people together.

The Bores Brief

Only have minutes to spare? Here's what you need to know:

- At Murray Hill Academy's Curriculum Night, I met with students, families, and staff to launch the school's new cybersecurity program, preparing students for a career in a growing and needed field.
- I attended Health Advocates for Older People's reception, supporting their work to help New Yorkers stay healthy, active, and connected. Their programs—from exercise classes to home-safety consultations and social activities—empower our neighbors. I'm grateful for HAFOP's continued dedication to helping New Yorkers age with dignity and care.
- Community Board 8 hosted another successful art show celebrating local creativity and community spirit! The event showcased the talents of Upper East Side artists. I attended with my wife and our new son; his first community event!
- Join my Annual Town Hall on Sunday, November 16, from 11:00 AM-1:00 PM at Hunter College! Hear updates, ask questions, and share what's on your mind. Seats are limited and last year we were fully booked—so if you are even thinking of coming, please reserve your spot today at bit.ly/borestownhall2025.

Sincerely,

 Alex Bores
 Your Assemblymember

Assemblymember Bores joined Muslim Volunteers for New York at Ruppert Park for their semiannual stewardship day, held with NYC Parks and Partnership for Parks. Neighbors came together to plant, beautify, and care for the park's green spaces. Their work helps ensure Ruppert Park continues to remain a vibrant and well-tended space for the community.

Alex joined the Knickerbocker Greys in federal court as they work to keep their home. In 2024, he passed legislation (A7686/S7212) requiring armories to provide space for legacy cadet corps, but the Park Avenue Armory sued the state, and after losing in state court, is now trying federal. Alex stands with the kids.

The Esplanade Halloween Spooktacular, Sutton Spooktacular, and Beekman Place Halloween Children's Party kicked off the season with costumes, kid-friendly activities, and a lot of candy. Congratulations on some very creative costumes!

Alex joined the Carnegie Hill Neighbors Green Thumb planting day. New Yorkers for Parks supplied daffodil and tulip bulbs. With support from For the Plants, Partnerships for Parks, and NYC Parks, neighbors had the tools and guidance to plant the beds. The result: clean beds now, and a burst of color come spring.

Assemblymember Bores joined the East 86th Street Association for its neighborhood cleanup. Volunteers picked up trash all along 86th Street. For over 20 years, the Association has worked with residents and local stores to improve quality of life.

Alex held Mobile Office Hours in Sutton Place Park, meeting with neighbors to discuss community issues and local priorities. If you know of a location you would like Alex to bring mobile office hours, please contact the office.

You can also bring questions to Alex's upcoming Town Hall.

The Assemblymember joined congregants at Temple Emanu-El to mark the second anniversary of the October 7 terror attacks. The community gathered to honor the victims and to advocate for an end to the war and the return of hostages.

LEGISLATIVE UPDATE

Now in Effect: Infertility Legislation

Introduced by Assemblymember Bores, a new law ensures New Yorkers with cancer can access fertility preservation services through Medicaid. Effective October 1, it eliminates uninsured costs when patients must choose between life-saving treatment and preserving fertility. The program represents just 0.005% of total State Medicaid spending and will not raise overall rates, but will allow some New Yorkers to start families that were previously impossible.
