FAQs About REAL and Enhanced IDs:

What is a REAL ID?

A REAL ID is a driver's license, learner's permit, or non-driver ID, issued by the DMV. Starting in October 2020, you will be required to have either a REAL ID or a valid passport, in order to board a domestic flight, or enter some federal buildings. It is the same price as a normal driver's license.

What is an Enhanced ID?

An Enhanced driver's license, learner's permit, or non-driver ID is issued by the DMV, and can be used in lieu of a passport, if coming back to the country from Mexico, Canada, and some Caribbean countries, by land and sea only. It will also be accepted in lieu of a passport on domestic flights, and in order to enter military bases and some federal buildings. Passports are still mandatory on international flights. It costs an extra $30 on top of normal driver's license fees.

What is the difference?

An Enhanced ID does everything a REAL ID does, plus it allows you to travel by land or sea to Mexico, Canada, and some Caribbean countries.

Do I have to get a REAL or Enhanced ID?

No, you do not. Just make sure you have a valid passport, in order to board all flights, enter military buildings, and some federal buildings. You do not have to be a citizen in order to get a Real ID, however you must be a citizen to get an Enhanced ID.

How can I apply for a REAL or Enhanced ID?

You must apply for a REAL or Enhanced ID in person, at a DMV office.
