Dear Friend,

Albany is going through an incredible revival, and young people are the future of our city. Albany Mayor Dr. Dorcey Applyrs and I are creating a new advisory group - the Cap City Collective. I want you to be a part of it.

This group will bring exciting, vibrant energy to our city and serve as cheerleaders, advocates, and stewards of the wonderful things our city has to offer. We want to empower 20-35 year olds to play a greater role in planning for the city's future.

WHO

• A team of 18 Albany residents aged 20-35

- One person from each of Albany's 15 Wards
- Three students from any Albany-based college/university

We are looking for true champions who care about Albany and want to help create a city that thrives. We want to find new and innovative ways to engage Albany's young people to help us set priorities, address city issues, and plan for Albany's future.

WHAT

- Engage the community in the fun things happening in your neighborhood!
- Share feedback and ideas that are happening - on the ground - with me and the Mayor.
- Innovate with us to rethink what civic engagement can and should be for young adults in the Cap City.

We're done with "Smalbany" - the Cap City Collective is tapping into the young people in our city to #BringEmOut
