

“There ought to be a law”

Have you ever thought, “There ought to be a law”? If so, here’s your chance to submit an idea that might just become law.

Many of our current laws originated from ideas expressed by private citizens.

The legislative process contains many safeguards to ensure that new laws will serve the best interests of the people of our state.

Please take advantage of this opportunity by filling out the form on the other side of this card and mailing it to me. I look forward to hearing from you.
